Delivering the Difference - I look forward to you joining us to really explore what this can mean. The scale of "the difference" may be large or small but every impact is vital, and every one of our speakers will share with you their personal way of ensuring that they and others "deliver". I hope you will enjoy the opportunity to listen to as many as possible of the speakers, as I am sure we can each learn from their insights, whether it be in the field of M15, business entrepreneurs, the law or the media.

For me the programme action part of the conference is always essential - hearing from clubs and some of the charities we work with. I am constantly impressed by the innovative ways clubs find to "deliver the difference". The opportunity to pick up tips and skills is invaluable; there is always someone with a wonderful idea, or a way of influencing others, to share with our home regions.

Glasgow is a vibrant city with great facilities, so I look forward to welcoming you there in November 2015. We will have a full conference programme for you, not forgetting the social side, so do join us.
