

BREAKING THE BIAS

Lindsey Bavin
Museum Curator

Lindsey became the Curator at True's Yard Fisherfolk Museum in 2020 after working as manager of the museum for almost a decade. As curator she is responsible for the care of all the items in the museum and arranging displays and exhibitions. She finds working in a small museum incredibly rewarding and says that while each day presents its own tribulations every challenge overcome is knowledge and skills gained. "I still receive a few letters addressed "Dear Sir" but thankfully few men refusing to believe that it is a woman doing my job"
