

Cheryl Sharp FCCA – Domestic Abuse Workplace Consultant | Survivor Mentor | Speaker

Cheryl Sharp FCCA trains employers to recognise and respond to domestic abuse at work. She spent 12.5 years as a business owner and employer, founding the accountancy practice Pink Pig Financials in 2014 and selling it in June 2026 to work on this full time. She left an abusive marriage in 2011 with two young sons and no money, and built the practice while rebuilding her own financial independence. Her training covers how to spot the signs, how to have the conversation and how to keep someone in work and earning. She also runs Rebuild & Thrive, a programme for survivors that she delivers in Women's Centres for the frontline charity Safer Places, where she is a Trustee. She has spoken at Accountex and the EMR Customer Experience Conference and has appeared on BBC and Times Radio, in People Management and Personnel Today.
