

Volunteering in Bolivia

Jenny Scotland

Inter-Cultural
Youth Exchange

Fundación
ALALAY

- A refuge for street children
- Santa Rita
- Personal and social rehabilitation

My Role

- Life in Cabaña C
- Getting to know the girls

A Typical Day

- Breakfast
- School
- Lunch
- Homework and games
- Cleaning and washing

My Favourite Moments

Life Outside Volunteering

- City Life
- Host family
- Visiting other places

What I Learnt

- Resilience
- The little things are important!
- 2 months was not enough
- Cultural differences and structural inequalities

A photograph of two llamas in a high-altitude, rocky landscape. In the foreground, a black llama with a white face and legs is drinking from a small stream. To its right, a white llama with a pink tag on its ear stands looking towards the right. The ground is covered in green moss and small rocks. In the background, large, reddish-brown rock formations rise under a clear blue sky.

Thank you for listening

And thank you to Soroptimist International St Albans for helping me make it to Bolivia!