

Green Resources to entertain and educate SITV in the long winter nights

16/9/23 Sushi and Dorothy

This is a list of radio and TV programmes which look at various aspects of the environment. Some specifically only cover sustainability, while others are about topics like business but are increasingly covering their environmental impacts.

We have focussed more on radio, as it is easier to listen to while doing something else.

I have listed the website links because there are loads of previous episodes listed which cover an extraordinary range of topics.

I hope to try to listen to one a day – will let you know how that goes!!
